

CHRIS McMULLEN

CONSTRUCTION PROJECT SUPERINTENDENT

Chris McMullen joined Hubbell Construction Services in December 2014 as an Assistant Project Superintendent, bringing with him more than 15 years of experience in the construction industry. He was promoted to Construction Project Superintendent in September 2016. In the role, Chris is responsible for subcontractor scheduling, communicating with architects and engineers, maintaining budgets and managing project schedules. He also is tasked with overseeing safety practices and all other activities that take place on the construction site.

Prior to joining Hubbell Construction Services, Chris worked for Hubbell Homes building hundreds of single-family homes and several multi-family dwellings. He also owned and operated his own construction company, specializing in custom homebuilding and residential remodels.
